

CINDERELLA CHARACTERS

Fairy Godmother (f, singing role)

She's Cinderella's fairy guardian, has always looked out for her, and wants to help her meet her dreamy Prince.

Cinderella (f, singing role)

She is Baron Hardup's daughter, and since losing her mother, has taken it upon herself to take care of him. She doesn't get on with her new stepmother and stepsisters, and falls hopelessly in love with Prince Charming of course!

Baron Hardup (m / f, singing role)

He is Cinderella's proud dad but is looking for a fresh start and so has found himself a new wife, the Baroness. But he can't see that she and her daughters are just using him.

Baroness Hardup (f, singing role) - Emma Doran

After her exes always disappearing under mysterious circumstances, the Baron is her next mark. She is only after his money (so is going to be very disappointed!) and really dislikes poor Cinderella.

Chardonnay (m - Dame, singing role) - Chris Cooper

One of the Baroness's two daughters, Chardonnay is desperate to get the Prince - and will stop everyone who gets in her way.

Chanel (m - Dame, singing role)

Chanel is also after the Prince, but has generally played second fiddle to Chardonnay. Is this just normal sibling rivalry or could it spill over?

Buttons (m / f)

The comic of the pantomime, Buttons works for Baron Hardup doing odd jobs around the house. He also has a massive crush on Cinderella...but he can't bear to actually tell her!

Prince Charming (m / f, singing role)

Charming is fed up of meeting all these stuck-up types his mother keeps sending him on dates with. He just wants to meet an ordinary girl and settle down. Is that too much to ask?

Dandini (m / f, singing role)

Charming's right-hand (and wing) man, he's always got his back. He'll go to end of the earth for the Prince, the kind of friend we all need!

Mr Bourne & Mr Bread (m / f)

The double act of the pantomime, Bourne and Bread are the local debt collectors, despite being pretty hopeless at chasing down missed payments!

King Albert (m)

The King is getting his son, Prince Charming ready to inherit the throne, and his biggest wish is to see him marry, especially as it's his Platinum Jubilee!

Queen Victoria (f)

The Queen has always been by the King's side, and mollycoddles Charming just a little too much!

Daisy (f) & Darren (m)

This pair work in the local salon. Whatever treatment you want, they'll be able to help. Or at least they'll try to! Without being too judgy!
